HUMOUR:

A rabbi, a priest and a minister walk into a bar.

The bartender looks up and says, "What is this, a joke?"

There are 3 fundamental truths about religion: Jews don't recognize Jesus as the Son of God, Protestants don't recognize the Pope as the Vicar of Christ, and Baptists don't recognize each other at the bar on Saturday nights.

NEWS:

Pope's message to new cardinals: Serve Christ

Published: 29 June 2018

Don't waste your time being involved in palace intrigue and focus solely on serving Christ and his Church was Pope Francis' message to the 14 new cardinals he created yesterday. Source: Crux.

"What does it profit us to gain the whole world if we are corroded within?" asked Francis at a consistory at St Peter's Basilica. "What does it profit us to gain the whole world if we are living in a stifling atmosphere of intrigues that dry up our hearts and impede our mission?"

"Here, as someone has observed, we might think of all those palace intrigues that take place, even in curial offices," Francis continued.

In keeping with what has become his custom, Francis's new appointments to the College of Cardinals come from remote corners of the globe, including non-majority Catholic locations such as Pakistan, Madagascar, Iraq, and Japan.

He announced the names of the new appointments last month during his Sunday Angelus following Mass on Pentecost Sunday on May 20, noting that their locations reflect the "universality of the Church, that continues to preach the merciful love of God throughout the earth."

That evangelical outreach to the ends of the earth – or the peripheries, as Francis frequently says – is the same "missionary key," which he encouraged the newest members of the Church's highest ranks to follow.

"Jesus teaches us that conversion, change of heart and Church reform is and ever shall be in a missionary key, which demands an end to looking out for and protecting our own interests, in order to look out for and protect those of the Father," Francis said.

"Conversion from our sins and from selfishness will never be an end in itself, but it's always a means of growing in fidelity and willingness to embrace the mission," he added.

In his homily, Francis challenged the new cardinals to focus their activities and their energies on the needs of "real people" in order to provide a credible witness to the Gospel.

"This is the highest honour that we can receive, the greatest promotion that can be awarded us: to serve Christ in God's faithful people. In those who are hungry, neglected, imprisoned, sick, suffering, addicted to drugs, cast aside."

SCRIPTURE REFLECTION:

Jesus is on his way to fulfil the request of a named male synagogue official who has given voice on behalf of his ill daughter. Jesus is stopped in his tracks by an unnamed voiceless female who has been ostracised from the social and religious life of the town.

Part of her healing is to get her voice back. She tells Jesus everything and he addresses her with the beautiful title, 'Daughter'. Imagine the joy of this woman hearing such a term of affectionate relationship. Jesus went on: '... your faith has made you whole: go in peace and be healed of your disease.'

Jesus did not regard this as an interruption to his journey to heal the daughter of Jairus. Stopping was an absolute priority subverting the expectations and power structures of society. The healing presence of Jesus was, and is, radically egalitarian.

Perhaps we could take a moment to pray that we have the courage to touch the hem of Our Lord's cloak in Confession. There we can tell him everything which has left us ill-at-ease in our relationship with God, our fellow human beings and in ourselves. With confidence in his Divine power, we can ask him to heal the dis-ease in some part of our personality. Hear him respond: "Daughter (or son), your faith has made you whole: go in peace and be healed of your dis-ease". Then, share in the joy of the woman of our Gospel story.
