COMMUNION TO LYNDONCH: 3 March: Robert McLaren

Making Connections: Respond in a practical way to one of the commands of Jesus in this gospel—for example, pray for those who treat you badly; be compassionate to someone, or forgive someone who has wronged you.

Exploring the Word: Jesus is suggesting radical action. It demands that we act towards others without being asked, that believers offer friendship and pardon constantly, without asking or hoping for anything in return. In Jesus is located God's self-revelation, God's actions in and for the world, his plan for salvation and its fulfilment. Followers of Jesus must act in these ways precisely because they are the ways of God. Turn the other cheek; love your enemies; do good to those who hurt you! Why should we? How can we?

Did You Know?: The gospel contains the most challenging of all the Christian commandments and probably the most difficult to keep: love your enemies and do good to those that hurt you.

Sharing the Tradition: Some of the public apologies made by the church over recent years for past wrongs are, for example, that of Pope John Paul II for the Crusades and the Spanish Inquisition during the Jubilee Year 2000, or, more recently, the apologies for situations of injustice or abuse within the church itself or for cooperating with the removal of indigenous children from their families. It is important that we recognise that sometimes the church, as a divine institution, but one that is also limited by human frailty in its actions and historical circumstances must seek to redress any situations of injustice or hurt in order to move forward in a way more in tune with God's plan for the world. Some of the ways the church is attempting to redress past wrongs (for example, promoting religious dialogue with Islam and Judaism, or accepting responsibility for clerical abuse) thus provides witness to the demands of the gospel.

Symbols and Images: This text follows immediately on from the Beatitudes of last week's gospel. It continues the theme of the radical reversal called for by the gospel. What the world considers as human nature and a natural response is not the way of the disciples of Jesus, who follow a different world order. They must act and respond in a certain way because that is the way of God!

Daily Prayer: Unconditional is your love for us, O God, in Jesus, the Teacher who befriended sinners, the Savior who died praying for executioners. For us in the image of this Jesus, slow to judge and swift to forgive, a people compassionate and generous.

Marriage Tip: "In the Our Father prayer we say, 'Give us this day our daily bread.' Married couples may also learn to pray, 'Give us this day our daily love.'" – Pope Francis

Vocational View: If you love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, bless those who curse you and pray for those who maltreat you, realize that God has already been working in you.

Pope's Prayer Intentions for February

Human Trafficking For a generous welcome of the victims of human trafficking, of enforced prostitution, and of violence.

Order of Mass

The celebration of Mass is the action of Christ and his people, and as such is the centre of the whole Christian life. It is the high point of the action by which Christ sanctifies the world, and by which mankind, with Christ, worships the Father.

We listen to the word of God, and respond by offering ourselves with Christ to his Father. Christ gathers us into his universal sacrifice, which is completed by our sharing in holy communion. At the end of the celebration, we go into the world to be witnesses to Christ in our daily lives, and to bring him to others. By our celebration we commit ourselves to this service.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM (Keep for Daily Prayer)

The Lord is kind and merciful.

My soul, give thanks to the Lord, all my being, bless his holy name. My soul, give thanks to the Lord and never forget all blessings. R.

It is he who forgives all your guilt, who heals every one of your ills, who redeems your life from the grave, who crowns you with love and compassion. R.

The Lord is compassion and love, slow to anger and rich in mercy. He does not treat us according to our sins nor repay us according to our faults. R.

As far as the east is from the west so far does he remove our sins. As a father has compassion on his sons, the Lord has pity on those who fear him. R.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia! Alleluia! Praise the word of truth and life.

Those who love you seek your Truth, Lord, come and make your home within us.
