These gatherings are part of a series of gatherings in Horsham, Mildura, Warrnambool.

To promote our own prayerful thinking about our responses in the Cathedral Parish to the question – what is the Holy Spirit asking of the Church in Australia? We invite the many and varied voices of Cathedral parishioners to be heard within our Parish. You are invited to offer your 200 words to the Parish Office. Our response this week comes from Don Kelly:

The Catholic church needs to focus on the future and promote Christian contemporary values. We must focus on pastoral activities with less emphasis on ceremonial events. We must encourage and welcome broad involvement in church activities. We must have as fundamental principles accountability, transparency and inclusiveness to build on Christian values. We must rebuild trust. We must overcome dysfunctional governance and leadership from bishops and learn from past errors. Local laity must have involvement in selection of Priests and Bishops and hold them accountable to the community. Lateral solutions must be developed to meet local needs. For example solutions to lack of priests. Catholics must embrace inclusiveness of broad members of the community including other races and religions, divorcees, LGBTI etc. and make them welcome and involve them in activities. Women must take their place in the governance of the church and be ordained as priests. Celibacy should no longer be a requirement for priesthood. Real life relationships are an important part of life experiences. Criminal law must be maintained for all citizens and the use of Canon law to withhold criminal information should be punishable under criminal law. I have skepticism about the Plenary Council as Bishops have proved themselves incompetent in response to Royal Commission - no compassion, no remorse, no empathy, denial, cover ups, lost memory and no response. These people will have the vast majority of votes at the Plenary Council.

Meeting of the Cathedral Parish Pastoral Council

Members of the Council met during the week and are planning a forum for the coordinators, leaders and contact persons from all groups, ministries and organisations of the Cathedral Parish. This will include Parish Schools, Prayer groups, Pastoral Care, Youth Ministry, Outreach, Sacramental teams, Liturgical ministries and many more. The forum will be held on Tuesday October 16th, 7.30 pm – 9.00 pm in the smaller hall at the Cathedral. Please contact the Cathedral Parish Office to ensure that your group, ministry or organisation is included in this forum. The focus will be the Plenary Council and the Synodal style of Pope Francis. A Parish expo of all groups, ministries and organisations is being proposed for the weekend of November 17th – 18th with a Parish Assembly scheduled for Sunday 2.30pm – 4.30pm (Same day as Ballarat's Run 4 a Cause which you participate with Fr Justin, then come to Mass and join your fellow parishioners at the Parish Assembly).

Gospel Reflection by Sr Veronica Lawson rsm

Today's gospel reading leads us into a section of Mark's gospel that explores challenges confronting all disciples on their journey of faith. The first challenge is to clarify the nature of our commitment as disciples of Jesus. If we fail to understand who Jesus is, then we have little chance of understanding the nature of our own call to follow him. Two questions ("Who do people say that I am?" and "Who do you say that I am?") are addressed to our forbears in faith communities of the latter part of the first century and to Christians across the millennia. We are invited to hear these questions anew. Do we simply share what "the people" say about Jesus? Are we like Peter who has the right language but only partial insight? Or do we have the wisdom to seek a deeper understanding of the identity of Jesus? In response to Jesus' second question ("Who do you say that I am?"), Peter gets the words right: Jesus is the Messiah, the Christ, God's anointed messenger. It becomes clear, however, that Peter has a very different notion from Jesus of what it means to be the Messiah or the Christ. This is understandable since there were diverse messianic expectations within first-century Judaism. Many expected a royal militaristic figure who would drive out the Roman occupiers and restore Israel's status as an independent nation. Jesus, as God's Messiah, refuses the way of violent action. His way is to be true to his mission of bringing God's empire, even if it brings the most intense personal suffering. Peter refuses to accept a suffering Messiah. He is severely reprimanded for his refusal and instructed to get out of the way, to get back to where a disciple should be, namely behind Jesus, following him, and not in front obstructing the path to wisdom and life.

Our bitter experience of global conflicts in recent decades should make us wary of accepting militaristic messiahs. In our times, to know and follow Jesus as the Christos or Messiah is to seek and support more moderate and lasting responses to perceived injustice. It is to listen to the wisdom of those with insight and experience, to calculate with the utmost care the consequences of violent reactions to the problems in our world, in contemporary society, and in our homes. That may well involve hard work, personal misunderstanding, physical and emotional trauma or, in other words, it may mean "losing one's life" for the sake of the gospel. It certainly calls for profound trust in the saving power of God. Over the next few weeks, the Sunday gospels will call us into the ways of respect, of commitment, and of peaceful negotiation, to ever deeper insight into the ways of Jesus the Christ, the anointed agent of God's empire.
